STATE MUST ADD TO ITS TAXABLES

Available Funds for Urgent and Growing Demands Get Lower and Lower Each Year

LIKE LIVING BEYOND INCOME

By GEORGE NOX MCCAIN

The available funds of the State have been getting lower and lower for the last year. That is, the money in the "general fund."

It is out of this that all general appropriations are made. For lack of money in it, bills have accumulated and remained unpaid.

Its balances, covering a period of months, are a barometer of the condition of the State's finances.

As was pointed out in my article of Saturday it should be understood that the general expenditures of the State are limited to the cash in this department of the Treasury.

One week the Treasury may receive $500,000. Within five days all of this may be disbursed, leaving the Treasury practically empty, with only a few thousands of dollars.

The condition of the State Treasury cannot therefore be judged by the amount of cash on hand at any particular time. The State's money in the general fund is "fluid." It is constantly coming in and going out.

When, however, the balance of cash is always low as it has been for months, it is paid out as fast as it is received and then there is not enough to go around. It is an indication that the State Treasurer is having to pay the Commonwealth's bills.

Like Man Who Lives Up to Income

It is like a man who lives up to his income. Who spends as fast as he earns and has no money to put in bank. Whose nose is constantly to the grindstone.

That's the condition the State's finances have been in for a year now. But with this difference; the State has its fluctuating income will ultimately be adequate to settle all obligations.

Times have been hard, business has been bad, and it is apparent, unless there is a great change in them, it will not be enough money by millions to settle all indebtedness.

In other words, there will be some of the Robert Morris Public School, Her father formerly headed the department of mathematics at the South Philadelphia High School for Boys.

According to Miss Whitaker, the indictment of herself, her two brothers and her sister, is spillover on the part of a "Harry Drexel," who lives, she says, near this city. She refuses to give his address.

When she and her brother went from the Atlantic to the Pacific in an automobile recently she said it was the family car and that the man named Drexel had driven a car said to have been stolen. Her father formerly headed the department of mathematics at the South Philadelphia High School for Boys.

Mrs. Helen Barrett Montgomery, of Rochester, Arrives in City

RECEPTIONS ARE GIVEN

Mrs. Helen Barrett Montgomery, of Rochester, N. Y., president of the Northern Baptist Conference, is the guest of the Philadelphia Committee of Union Christian College.

Women in the Orient in a series of receptions that started today and will continue tomorrow.

Mrs. Montgomery's election as president of the Northern Baptist Conference at Des Moines, in June, 1921, set a precedent in American church history. No woman has ever so prominently been elevated to a position of denominational supervision.

Mrs. Montgomery is also president of the United Women's Missionary Boards of the United States, a member of the Edinburgh Conference of Interdenominational Missionaries and the National Council of the Colleges of the Orient.

Mrs. Montgomery arrived in the city this morning and addressed a ministers' conference at the First Baptist Church at 4 o'clock.

Mrs. Montgomery laid most stress on the educational necessities of the Baptists. Describing the church as a part of the world's governing bodies, she said that like all governing bodies, education among the masses was as important as among a few leaders.

She gave the details of the new World Movement campaign, saying that despite the hard times very excellent progress was being made toward the $100,000,000 goal.

At 1 o'clock she was the guest of the City Club for luncheon.

At 4 o'clock she will attend a reception to be given in her honor at the College Club by the college women of Philadelphia and vicinity.

Here Mrs. Montgomery will give a short talk on the subject of women's colleges of the Orient, of which there are seven, three in China, one in Japan and three in India.

Mrs. Montgomery has studied college and missionary conditions in the East and is considered an authority on the subject. At 5:30 o'clock she will address the winter missionaries of Philadelphia at the First Baptist Church.

Tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock Mrs. Montgomery will be guest of honor at a reception to be given at the Second Presbyterian Church by the Philadelphia Council of Interdenominational Women.

Mrs. Arthur Lee, Mrs. John Grubel, Mrs. H. H. Kynard, Mrs. Helen Foss, George M. Marshall, Mrs. Irving F. Knoveth, Mrs. Charles P. Turner, Mrs. I. H. O'Hara and Mrs. A. Pollman.

January 17 the committee will give a luncheon at the Bellevue-Stratford in the interests of the colleges of the Orient. At this affair Mrs. Henry Braden, chairman of the International Committee; Mrs. John D. Rockefeller and Mrs. Charles Evans Hughes are expected to be present.

Recalls Resignation

REV. DR. J. B. McCLOSKEY

RESOLUTIONS ARE ADOPTED

The Rev. John B. McClosky, rector of the Church of the Sacred Heart, Broadway and Ferry avenue, Camden, has withdrawn his resignation which he had sent to Bishop Walsh, of the diocese of Trenton.

A meeting held by parishioners in the church last night brought the priest to reconsider the action he had taken. He had received a telegram from Bishop Walsh acknowledging receipt of the resignation. He sent another telegram asking for reinstatement. At the episcopal residence it was announced today that Bishop Walsh was not at home. He is expected to take definite action on the matter on his return.

The priest's resignation came about when he presented objections made to plans he had for making last Saturday a day for the benefit of St. Michael's Orphanage, at Hopewell, N. J. The parishioners last night drew up resolutions asking him to reconsider the resignation.

The resolutions referred to his long term of service in the church in the manner in which he had removed the church debt, built a parish school and added to the congregation materially in the past years. With this testimonial of feeling, Father McCloskey's friends finally induced him to send a telegram to Bishop Walsh asking the Bishop to reconsider the resignation.

Following the last mass the men of the parish met and sent a communication to Bishop Walsh requesting him to refuse the resignation. The Bishop instructed the delegation to forward him a petition bearing signatures.

DEFER LIPPINCOTT HEARING

Suit to Break Philadelphia Banker's Will Postponed for Day

Atlantic City, Nov. 28.—The hearing on the appeal from the probate of the will of the late George Truman Lippincott, millionaire banker, who died at his shore home last February from "sleeping sickness," contracted aboard his yacht while cruising in Florida waters, was postponed today by Judge Ingersoll until tomorrow morning.

The postponement was allowed because of the inability of former Attorney General Robert C. McCarter, one of counsel for the contestant, to be on hand.

WANTS PARK THROWN OPEN

Chamber of Commerce Committee Acts on Clifford Park

Because of complaints that Clifford Park, a part of Fairmount Park, which has been under discussion recently owing to the disapproval of Lawrence B. Mellor, Assistant Superintendent of the park, on the charge that he occupied the Famous Thomas mansion in that park and conducted himself as though owner of the estate, still is inclosed with fences, the Municipal Affairs Committee of the Philadelphia Chamber of Commerce has taken up the matter with the Park Commission.

The complaint made to the committee is that though Mr. Mellor was dropped because he maintained the park in the form of a private ground from which the public was generally excluded, the fences still exist and no move has been made to give the park the appearance of a section of Fairmount Park.
